

PRODUCTIVITY MASTERCLASS

3-MONTH COACHING PROGRAM

BREAK THROUGH THE BARRIERS THAT STOP YOU THRIVING

Are you a busy manager, business owner or senior professional who wants to break through to the next level in work and life?

Productivity Masterclass is a high-value, three month coaching program to help you develop the productivity skills and systems required to thrive as a senior leader.

As we advance in our careers, we typically need more space to think, plan and invest in relationships. But this can be tremendously difficult because of the reactive and demanding nature of our workplaces.

By investing in weekly group coaching, you will develop practical skills and frameworks to transform the way you plan and execute your goals across work and life.

Is this the right time to invest in your personal development and accelerate your growth?

INVEST IN COACHING

MASTERCLASS CURRICULUM

Each masterclass cohort is made up of 5-6 professionals who engage in a 3-month coaching process, including:

- 1-hour of group coaching on Zoom x 12 weeks with productivity expert, Daniel Sih.
- Practical resources, including succinct videos and handouts to transform your habits between coaching sessions.
- Personal reflective activities and habit-based challenges to help you apply theory in practice in your real-world context.

A supportive group of professionals to help you learn.

This program includes content from our training courses, including Email Ninja, List Assassin, Priority Samurai, Meeting Dojo, Making Space and Email Etiquette, put together as a comprehensive personal management system.
